Harding to Review Regiment.

President Harding has promised Col. Webster Fairservice, of the Twenty-third New York Infantry, that at some time in the future he would review that regiment, which was the 166th Infantry in the world war and claims to be the first outfit to reach the Hindenburg line.

U. S. CUTS POSTAL RATE ON PRINTING FOR BLIND

Effective May 10, a reduction in the postage rate on printed matter for the blind of 1 cent for each 18 ounces or fraction thereof, when addressed for delivery in foreign countries, was announced today by the Post Office Department. The present rate is 1 cent for each 2 ounces, 1 lb same as for regular printed matter.

This reduction in postage has been urged for a number of years by organizations interested in education for the blind and the matter was definitely decided at the Universal Postal convention at Madrid last November. Printed matter for the blind is heavy and the former rate made its transportation to foreign countries costly.

WEATHER EXPERT
OF U. S. SUCCUMBS

Robert Seyboth Had Served As Forecaster for Government
Since 1888.

"Send out the storm warnings," Seyboth telegraphed a northeast storm in a few minutes the news of the approaching storm has been flashed to every weather bureau station along the Atlantic Coast. Storm signals are fluttering—signals that soon will be whipped by a sixty-mile gale. But the skippers of the coastwise vessels have been warned and they are prepared.

WAS WEATHER EXPERT.
Had it not been for the eagle eye and special training of Robert Seyboth, who was in charge of the weather station at Mount Washington, N. H., thousands of dollars worth of damage to shipping along the Atlantic Coast might have been done by the intense gale.

The above might well be taken from the life history of Robert Seyboth, veteran Weather Bureau official, who died Tuesday night at his home, 1318 Gallatin street northwest.

ALFRED J. CARTER, who disappeared from his home, 3602 Eleventh street northwest, twelve days ago.

FIND NO TRACE OF MISSING HUSBAND

Police Again Appealed to By
Wife of A. J. Carter, Who Vanished April 2.

Although the police and Central Office detectives have made diligent search for Alfred J. Carter, the proof-reader, who disappeared from his home, 3602 Eleventh street, on April 2, no trace of the missing man has been found.

Mrs. Carter called at police headquarters today and reiterated to Inspector Grant her belief that her husband had either gone to Chicago, where he has a brother, or had met with foul play. A few hours before he disappeared Carter drew $150 out of a local bank and $45 as his week's salary. He talked with his wife on the telephone only a few moments before he vanished.

"I have written to his brother in Chicago, and asked him to telegraph me whether or not he knew anything concerning my husband's whereabouts," said Mrs. Carter today. "I am at an utter loss to understand his mysterious disappearance and my grief over his fate is driving me almost distracted."

MISSIONARY SECRETARY
MAY HAVE OFFICE HERE

WINCHESTER, Va., April 14.—The Rev. D. L. Blakemore, who has been elected missionary secretary of the Baltimore Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church South, said he would make his headquarters in either Baltimore or Washington. He had not reached a final conclusion, he said.

The Rev. Frank A. Tyler, who takes his place as presiding elder of the Winchester district, served as an army chaplain in France during the world war. He is a son of the late Rev. George T. Tyler, of the Baltimore conference, and has four brothers in the ministry, two in the Southern Methodist Church and two in the Protestant Episcopal Church. They are the Rev. John Paul Tyler, Epworth Church, Washington; the Rev. German H. Tyler, at Glenade, W. Va.; the Rev. Roger Tyler, of Huntington, W. Va., and the Rev. Barrett Tyler, Morristown, N. J.

Safety to Be Discussed.

DR. NORMAN R. JENNER.

Dr. Norman R. Jenner, a prominent physician at this city, died this morning at 4 o'clock at his residence, 1110 Rhode Island avenue northwest. A heart affection caused death. For a year he has been suffering from the malady, but had been somewhat improved recently and was attending his practice.

Last night about midnight he was called from his bed by a patient. On arising he was seized with intense pain. His condition grew steadily worse, and at 4 o'clock the end came.

No arrangements have as yet been made for the funeral pending word from Dr. Jenner's brother in Illinois. Dr. Jenner was born in Olney, Ill., July 4, 1864. His parents were G. W. Jenner and Hulda Richards Jenner. Dr. Jenner came to Washington in 1886 and entered the Government service in the War Department. He was graduated from Georgetown University medical school in 1891, and practiced medicine in this city ever since.

He was married on June 29, 1909, to Miss Julia Alexander, daughter of the former Secretary of Commerce, Joshua W. Alexander, of Missouri. On coming to this city, Dr. Jenner united with the Vermont Avenue Christian Church, where he held various official positions. For the past three years he was chairman of the official board of the church.

Dr. Jenner also was a member of the Medical Society of Washington and stood high in his profession. He was an active member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. He leaves his wife and one brother, the Rev. Howard Jenner, of Manoa, Ill.

ROBERT SEYBOTH.

Funeral services for Robert Seyboth, an employee of the Weather Bureau for many years, who died Tuesday night at his home, 1318 Gallatin street northwest, will be held this afternoon at Lee's Chapel. Interment will be at Arlington Cemetery.

Mr. Seyboth was born in Germany, in 1866. In 1867 he entered the United States Army, serving with the Fourth Artillery until 1870, when he was a sergeant in the Signal Corps. He entered the Government civilian service in 1888, and in 1891 was transferred to the Weather Bureau.

MRS. GEORGE R. COOKEY.

Impressive funeral services were held this morning at St. Peter's Church, Second and C streets southeast, for Mrs. George R. Cooksey, wife of the Assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury, who died at Providence Hospital Sunday. The Rev. Joseph L. Hill officiated.

Jewelers to Aid Disabled.

Disabled soldiers who wish to learn the jewelry trade will be assisted by International Jewelry Workers' Union, No. 12, in co-operation with the Federal Board for Vocational Education. It was voted at a meeting of the union last night.

The union will aid the soldiers in obtaining work as apprentices and in securing special work.

Arbor Day Tomorrow.

The District Commissioners have issued a proclamation setting aside tomorrow as Arbor Day. "This day is set aside for the planting of trees and shrubs for the beautification of our city," says the proclamation.

Weidenhan was the celebrant of the solemn requiem mass, with Mr. James M. O'Brien, as deacon and the Rev. Stephen T. Morris as subdeacon. Father Weidenhan also preached the funeral sermon.

The choir of St. Cecilia's Academy sang the service, while Mrs. Edna Howard was soloist. The Sisters of St. Cecilia's and the Sacred Heart Academy attended the services. Interment was in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

The honorary pallbearers were Senator Glass, former Secretary of the Treasury; Assistant Secretaries of the Treasury; Gilbert, Moyle, Kelly, and LaPorte; Eugene Myer, managing director of the War Finance Corporation, and Angus McLean, of the War Finance Corporation; Judge Laddell of the Farm Loan Board; James L. Wilmeth, director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing; Ray Baker, director of the mint; and John Kiley, private secretary to Secretary Mellon. The active pallbearers were Dr. Louis Castell, Joseph R. Castell, Frederick Boileau, Louis E. Bradford, Francis A. Maguire, and J. Thomas Manning.

Mrs. Cooksey was baptised, confirmed, received first communion, married, and buried from St. Peter's Church, her family having long been residents of the southeast section of the city. Her father, C. E. Colliflower, still lives in that section, as do several of her brothers, who have been prominent in baseball in Washington for many years.

MRS. MARGARET DRISCOLL.

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Driscoll, for many years a resident of Washington, will be held tomorrow at Clements' undertaking establishment, 1241 Wisconsin avenue northwest. Mass will be said at 9 o'clock at St. Stephen's Church. Interment will be at Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Mrs. Driscoll was a native of Connecticut. She is survived by one daughter, Miss Mary E. Driscoll.

MRS. MARGARET W. ALLISON.

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret W. Allison, who died unexpectedly Monday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. L. J. Johnston, 1507 Pennsylvania avenue southeast, were held at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Interment was in Congressional Cemetery.

Mrs. Allison's death, which was due to pneumonia, was a distinct shock to her many friends. She was born in Washington sixty-two years ago and was long interested in the work of Kendall Baptist Church, of which she was a member. Her husband, John H. Allison, is a widely known carpenter and builder.

Five children and her husband survive. The children are Thomas E. and Miss Mary Allison, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Cranston Howard and Mrs. Ralph Jones.
